More than 1,500 researchers and physicians - specialists of neuromuscular diseases, geneticists and cardiologists – will be attending their XII International Congress in Naples 17-22 July, 2010. Every four years the International Congress on Neuromuscular Diseases is the most important step in the research concerning new development in neuromuscular diseases. Researchers and scientists from around the world will discuss major topics in neuromuscular disorders such as myasthenia gravis, inflammatory demyelinating polyneuropathies, amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, muscular dystrophies, cardiomyopathies, hereditary spastic paraplegia, primary lateral sclerosis, and periodic paralyses.

In addition to 20 plenary lectures (all confirmed), there will be 27 Symposia, teaching courses and case discussions, as well as "Meet the Expert" discussions. This congress will be oriented towards therapeutic prospects or presented trials in humans. The Congress will take place in the Monte Sant'Angelo University Campus, a large and comfortable Congress Centre of the University of Naples, not far from the city centre. Opening Ceremony and Welcome Dinner will take place in the garden of San Carlo Opera.

Use this unique gathering of international experts to communicate to an international and targeted audience.

To ensure you maximum visibility, the exhibition space at your disposal is at the heart of the congress attendees' daily route. Two guests per stand are allowed.
